___ ALL DAY

8:45 a.m.-10:00 a.m.

___ Convening Panel

Election 2010: Implications for California and Los Angeles

While setting the tone of the conference, this opening session will provide an assessment of November 2nd election results and discuss their likely implications for California and, more specifically, for Los Angeles as a region.

10:10 a.m.-11:20 a.m. (choose one)

___ Concurrent Panel 1A

A Sustainable Future: Jobs, the Economy & Green Growth in LA

In the midst of an economic downturn, Los Angeles has envisioned itself as a “green” city with a bold agenda to achieve a higher degree of sustainability. This panel will examine the nature of our regional economy and its performance over the last few years, address the emerging patterns of unemployment and poverty, and provide an insight into how the sustainability agenda may impact our economic, environmental and equity landscapes.

___ Concurrent Panel 1B

Political Dynamics in the Southland: Structures, Coalitions, Reforms, and Bell

This panel will explore and assess current and long-standing political dynamics/issues enveloping cities in Los Angeles County, including voter and resident activity, reform possibilities, and the potential for greater transparency and democratic governance in the near future.

11:30 a.m.-12:40 a.m. (choose one)

___ Concurrent Panel 2A

A Sustainable Future: Housing and Transportation

Los Angeles is know for its gridlocks and shortage of affordable housing. These interrelated problems have hampered access to employment for low-income families and have negatively impacted our overall quality of life in region. It is time we begin to look at less explored options! This panel will provide an overview of the current housing and transportation conditions and discuss some innovative policy options available to us.

___ Concurrent Panel 2B

Putting National Healthcare Reform into Practice for Angelenos

How does national healthcare reform truly affect Angelenos? Experts will discuss how new, previously uninsured people will be covered and whether LA has enough providers to serve them.

___ Concurrent Panel 2C

Immigration and Immigrant Communities: Integration and Settlement in the Southland

With the immigration battle raging in Arizona, California and Los Angeles remains a proving ground for immigrant communities and immigration policy. Panelists will look at the issues through the lens of contemporary politics and discuss what is changing in the area of immigration policy.

12:45 p.m.-2:00 p.m.

___ Luncheon Keynote

The luncheon keynote address will build upon the themes of the conference and explore the role Los Angeles-both as a city and region-can play in this country now and over the coming years.

2:10 – 4:00 p.m.

___ Concluding Panel

Framing the Future: Envisioning Los Angeles Beyond 2010

This visionary panel will explore where Los Angeles will be as a city and region in next 5 to 10 years. These sector leaders will discuss Los Angeles’ future outlook, including major challenges that lay ahead, changes that must occur to tackle and overcome these challenges, and how you—as a preeminently active visionary—will help make them occur.
